Still Life: Platform 9 (GSD Platform)

Platform is the Harvard University Graduate School of Design's annual compendium of select student work, events, lectures, and exhibitions.

Taking the artistic still life as its departure point, the ninth edition of Platform chronicles the 2015–2016 academic year at the GSD. Models and student projects, including dissertations and drawings, are skillfully arranged and presented to reference the still life as expressed in 18th- and 19th- century European painting, popular advertising, contemporary art, and other contexts.

These images not only present the broad range of work produced by GSD students but also challenge conventional modes of architectural documentation through multiple readings, lists, and novel interpretations of form.

John Starr:

As a scholar exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher questioned them to go to the library or make summary for some publication, they are complained. Just small students that has reading's internal or real their leisure activity. They just do what the educator want, like asked to go to the library. They go to presently there but nothing reading seriously. Any students feel that reading through is not important, boring along with can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this age, many ways to get whatever we wish. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. So , this Still Life: Platform 9 (GSD Platform) can make you truly feel more interested to read.
