Overcoming Parental Rejection & Hurts: School Edition Earl Middleton

It is estimated that by the time we reach age 21 some 100 million Americans have to some degree experienced debilitating parental rejection, and most of us take those feelings and their life limiting consequences to the grave. Changes in family structure brought on by shifting social norms and belt tightening economic realities have made it increasingly difficult for parents to connect with and nurture their children. America stealthily has become a nation of people feeling a deeply rooted sense of loss and abandonment because we have missed and are missing our parents. The resultant pathology is sobering: according to the Centers for Disease Control and the National Principles' Association Report 85% of all school kids exhibiting behavioral disorders and 71% of all high school dropouts are rejects. And according to the U.S. Department of Justice, so are 85% of all youth offenders. This transformational book teaches parental rejects how to overcome the debilitating effects of parental rejection and break through to greater success in life by leading them through the Five G.R.A.C.E. Steps.
