"To Be Saved & To Know the Truth" is Kevin R. Haughn's first work published for the general public. It contains his master's thesis from 2009 when he attended Azusa Pacific University in Azusa, California. He defended his thesis successfully in front of his advisory committee. The primary objective of this particular thesis essay is to provide a scholarly review of a book edited by Robin A. Parry and Christopher H. Partridge titled Universal Salvation? The Current Debate (Eerdmans: Grand Rapids, MI; 2003), which presents Thomas Talbott as both the main expositor and defender of "universal reconciliation." The various positions taken by the other contributors are presented and/or refuted by Haughn, and the thesis culminates with Haughn's own perspectives and opinions. Kevin R. Haughn graduated from Azusa Pacific University in Los Angeles County, California in 2009 with a Master of Arts in Religion (Theology and Ethics). He has taught philosophy at Trinidad State Junior College in Colorado and has interest in writing about topics in politics, religion, history, philosophy, lifestyle, and fiction. He recognizes that he is a sinner, but also is very thankful that God loves him and cares for him. This is the first work published by Kevin R. Haughn. Please show your support for Kevin's writing.
